Job description

The Hans Foundation

The Hans Foundation is a public charitable trust, set up in 2009, that works to build a fairer society where everyone can live a better life. It focuses on the health and wellbeing of remote and underserved communities, with special attention to children, women and people with disabilities, and also supports education and livelihoods. Its work reaches the most backward districts in the North, North-East and East of India, as well as low-income and migrant families in cities. Over 15 years, its programmes have reached more than 57 million people. This role sits within The Hans Foundation's Primary Health Centre Project in Punjab, which is strengthening basic healthcare in rural areas by running a fully staffed and equipped PHC (Primary Health Centre) in Hoshiarpur district.

Role

As Medical Officer, you will be the lead doctor at a village health centre that offers care for mothers and children, screening for long-term illnesses such as diabetes and high blood pressure, mental health support and health education. You will see and treat patients at the centre and in health camps, guide a small team of nurses, lab and pharmacy staff, and use patient data to spot health trends and plan better care for the community.

Responsibilities

- Examine, treat and advise patients at the PHC and during health camps, following the visit schedule.
- Visit elderly, seriously ill and disabled patients at home who cannot come to the centre.
- Refer patients on time to specialists and other hospitals when they need further care.
- Lead and train the PHC team, and make the best use of the centre's staff, equipment and supplies.
- Make sure medicines, lab supplies and medical equipment are always available and in working order.
- Keep OPD (outpatient department) registers, medicine use records and patient cards up to date, and protect patient privacy.
- Follow IPHS (Indian Public Health Standards) and IMC (Indian Medical Council) treatment rules, and government quality protocols.
- Study patient data to track common diseases and long-term illnesses, share findings and patient stories with the THF team, run health awareness campaigns and attend regular review meetings.

Requirements

- An MBBS (Bachelor of Medicine and Bachelor of Surgery) degree.
- Registration with the Punjab Medical Council.
- 1 to 3 years of experience working in public health programmes.
- Good team management skills.
- Good spoken and written communication in Hindi and Punjabi.
- Willingness to work from Beh Chuhar, Punjab, and to travel for health camps and home visits.

Benefits

- Salary based on your qualifications, experience and current pay.
- Run a fully equipped health centre with diagnostic kits and telemedicine facilities.
- Make a lasting difference to healthcare in a rural community that needs it.
- Join an equal opportunity employer that welcomes women, people with disabilities and people from excluded communities.

Profile

The Hans Foundation (THF) is one of India's leading philanthropic organisations dedicated to improving the quality of life of underserved communities through integrated interventions in health, education, disability inclusion, livelihoods, and humanitarian response. Established in 2009 by philanthropist Manoj Bhargava and Chairperson Shweta Rawat, THF is a Public Charitable Trust committed to creating equitable access to essential services for vulnerable populations across India. Initially focused on supporting grassroots NGOs through grant-making, The Hans Foundation has evolved into a large-scale implementing organisation that works directly with state governments, healthcare institutions, local communities, and civil society organisations. Through strategic partnerships and evidence-based programmes, THF delivers sustainable, community-driven solutions that improve health outcomes, strengthen education systems, promote economic empowerment, and support inclusive development.

Youtube video

With operations spanning 23 states and over 130 districts, the organisation reaches some of India's most remote and underserved regions. Its multidisciplinary teams work closely with governments, hospitals, community organisations, and local stakeholders to strengthen public service delivery and improve long-term social outcomes.

Major Areas of Work

- Health: Strengthening access to primary, secondary, and tertiary healthcare through hospitals, mobile medical units, specialist care, and public health initiatives.
- Disability Inclusion: Promoting rehabilitation, assistive services, therapy, education, livelihood opportunities, and social inclusion for persons with disabilities.
- Education: Expanding access to quality education and improving learning outcomes for children from disadvantaged communities.
- Livelihoods: Supporting skill development, entrepreneurship, financial inclusion, and sustainable livelihood opportunities.
- Community Development: Building resilient communities through integrated development programmes and partnerships.
- Climate & Disaster Response: Providing emergency relief, disaster recovery, and climate resilience initiatives in vulnerable regions.
- Government Partnerships: Collaborating with state governments to strengthen public systems and scale development programmes.

Major Initiatives and Programmes

Hans Mobile Medical Units (HMMU): Delivering essential primary healthcare services to remote and underserved communities through fully equipped mobile clinics.

Hans Renal Care Centres: Providing free dialysis and kidney care services for economically vulnerable patients.

Hans Mobile Therapy Programme: Offering physiotherapy, occupational therapy, speech therapy, and special education services for children and persons with disabilities.

Hans Vriksh Education Programme: Supporting access to quality education through school improvement, scholarships, and child-centred learning initiatives.

Hans Paediatric Programme: Providing specialised healthcare interventions including cochlear implants, congenital heart surgeries, vision care, and child health services.

Vision Uttarakhand Initiative: A flagship partnership with the Government of Uttarakhand supporting health, education, livelihoods, agriculture, water, disability, and rural development.

IDEA (Inclusion of Divyangjan Entrepreneur Association): Empowering persons with disabilities through entrepreneurship support, livelihood development, and employment opportunities.

Impact

- Reached over 17 million people across 23 states and 133 districts.
- Supported 400+ nonprofit organisations and grassroots partners across India.
- Established long-term partnerships with multiple state governments for healthcare, disability, education, and livelihood programmes.
- Operates one of India's largest mobile healthcare networks serving rural and remote communities.
- Supported thousands of patients through dialysis centres, paediatric healthcare, disability rehabilitation, and specialised medical interventions.
- Recognised for excellence in healthcare and social development, including the SABERA Award.
- Founded by philanthropist Manoj Bhargava, a signatory of the Giving Pledge, reflecting a long-term commitment to large-scale philanthropy.

The Hans Foundation offers professionals the opportunity to work on large-scale development programmes that directly improve healthcare, education, disability inclusion, and livelihoods across India. Employees collaborate with governments, hospitals, nonprofits, technical experts, and grassroots communities while contributing to sustainable, systems-level social impact.

The organisation is well suited for professionals interested in public health, programme management, disability inclusion, education, rural development, livelihoods, CSR, philanthropy, and government partnerships, offering opportunities to work on high-impact initiatives that reach millions of people across the country.
